

Friday 5th April 2019 was a buffet supper followed by Will Finn & Rosie Calvert in concert

Combining key boards, banjo and steel pan, the two folk musicians from Newcastle gave the enthusiastic audience a really entertaining night - playing some old standards as well as some new ones., with great vocal harmonies too. A real melting pot of styles and sound with fantastic energy. Rosie helped to explain during the interval how the steel pan gave such a rich array of sound and they wowed the audience with their musicianship.
